First Blog: We lowkey need 2 chrome the fuck up

There are many different ways to screw over the government, whether it be a national one or a local one. In this blog I'm gonna give you a list of ways to screw them over, and how! For legal reasons I want to state that this is all for silly jokes, take none of this seriously!

1. Digitally : Send spam mail and or zipbombs
    - First, get a VPN that's safe and secure, we don't want you getting caught! A good VPN is Proton VPN, the people behind ProtonMail. They are a Swiss founded company and have a strong focus on privacy.
    - Second, make a good couple of burner emails. You're not gonna do this just once, you're gonna wanna do this at least twice for safety. GuerrillaMail is very good for this. Each email lasts about 60 minutes, which can and will get the job done for what you're trying to achieve.
    - The last step is to either spam the inbox with either memes or zipbombs, just be really annoying. Make SURE not to send any sexually inappropriate material because that can be viewed as sexual harassment and if you get caught, you'll be in DOUBLE trouble! We don't want that!
